BARNARD CASTLE LOCAL BOARD OF HEALTH.

The ordinary fortnightly meeting was held in the Board-room, on Saturday last. Present :- Mr W Watson (chairman), Messes Brownless, Lodge, Martin, Raine, Gibson, Richardson, Lamb, Longstaff, Bad-cock, Steele, Holmes, Mitchell, Lax (clerk), Harrison (eurveyor), and Turnbull (inspector). NEW MEMBERS.

The re-elected and new members of the Board (Messrs. Brownless, Martin, and Raine) took their seats at the Board, and placed their signatures to the usual declaration of office. ELECTION OF MENSIERS. The Chairman remarked that he had conducted the election of members for the year, and the result of the poll, for that part of the district not within the purish of Startforth, wasas follows:--John Lamb, 368 ; John Mitchell, 265 ; Jonathan Hall, 211 , Frederick Brown, 209 ; William Fieldbouse, 204 ; William Raine, 837 ; Christopher Brown Martin, 425 ; Benjamin Wrigglesworth Gibson, 405. The candidate for the district of Startforth (George Brownless) was not opposed. RE-ELECTION OF CHAIRMAN.

The Chairman then intimated that, with the close of

The appointment of committees was proceeded with. --Mr Bidcock: I beg to more that Mr Gibson take the place lately beld by Mr Shaw on the Highway Committee.--Mr Gibson: What is the use of it: the Committee has no power over the use of it: the Committee.—Mr Gibson: What is the use of it: the Committee has no power over the Surveyor.—Mr Brownless: I believe you are quite correct.—Mr Gibson: So long as the Surveyor never asks or con-sults the Highway Committee in anything, it is a mere farce appointing that Committee.—Mr Badcock: If Mr Gibson refuses to stand, I beg to more Mr Martin. —The Chairman pointed out the uncorrected and the start. The Chairman pointed out the unreasonableness of the supposition that the Surveyor was always to be at the immediate call of the Highway Committeerunning about the town, consulting tach member on any malter relating to the roads. It was most incon-Freeman was got by Lumley; Lumley by Jolly Farmer; Jolly Farmer by Young Waggoner son of Old Waggoner, a true-bred Leicestershire Horso; dam one of the first Cart Mares in the North of England, some time ago, which set forth that the Highway Committee and the Surveyor were to meet fifteen minutes before the meeting of the general Board, and discuss matters ; now, at the first meeting, Mr Lodge was present, and, for six months after that there was never anybody there but myself .- Mr Badcock : It is quite clear that the Highway Committee could not agree.-The Chairman bore out the statement of the Surveyor, from personal observation.-Mr Gibson failed to ere why the committee could not do without a Surveyor, whose salary of £10 might be placed under the heading of useless expenditure. They had once done without a paid Surveyor, and the roads were better then than now; and, in point of traffic there was no comparison. When the Highway Committee had the supervision When the Highway Committee had the supervision of the roads, the bridges, &c., on the South Durham and Lancashire Union Railway, were in course of construction, and the stones, metal, &c., all passed over the town's roads.—The Chairman: The difficulty is in getting comebody willing to do the work.-Mr Richardson: There is an application from the Surrey-Richardon: a nero is an application from the Survey-or for an advance of salary, is there not?—The Clerk: It stands over till the end of the financial year.—Mr Badcock was sensible of a digression, and asked whither their discussion was leading?—The Chairman stated that the question had arisen in connection with the

Mr Richardson asked when the distinct ensuit be disposed of regarding the salary of Mr Harrison?—The Clerk was of opinion that the very was prepared.—Mr Gibson affirmed that in three ecuted by the Surveyor, the work in every case had to be done twice over; and continued: The item remeenting the amount charged for the work done appointment of committees .-- Some further discussion representing the amount charged for the work done at the reservoir (which I could have done myself for 10s or 12-) reached to pounds. I indeed should like to know what it did cost.—Mr Steel-: In the appointment of committees we over steeler. In the take into consideration charges against the Surveyor. It is out of place. - Mr Badcock then moved, and it was unanimously carried, that Mr Martin take the place of Mr Shaw on the Highway Committee.-the place of Mr Slaw on the righway Committee.---The next vacancy that occurred was that of the place recently occupied by Mr Hall on the Public and Private Works Committee, in reference to which the Chairman observed : I am sorry, and in fact it is a matter of personal regret to me, that Mr Hall has become disconnected with this Board. No body was more ready to undertake any duty imposed upon him than he; and in carrying it out he exercised judgment and uniform discretion.—Mossrs. Raine and Longstaff were then appointed members of the Public and Pairies West Committee Members of the Public and Private Works Committee. WATER SUPPLY.

Mr Richardson remarked that whatever might be the result of the poll on the question of a new reser-voir, the report submitted to them by Mr Butterfield ought at once to be dealt with : a strict conservancy of water, by whatever means it could be accomplished, he would deem cheap economy on the part of the Board. -Mr Martin stated that the general feeling of the rat-payers was in favour of the system of concervancy being adopted before anything further was done. Mr Richardson said they were disposed to use every means to repress the wilful waste habitually going on. - The Chairman attributed the great waste to wilful negligence; and the secret lay in the fact that the tape were left continually dropping, and purposely so, as he had often seen in his rounds of inspection with the committees.—Mr Brownless : I saw one this morning, which I stopped .- Mr Steele urged that the question of conservancy should be at once tested. BARRACKS LAND.

THE SEWER IN BRIDGEGATE.

In reading the minute having reference to this sub-ject, the Chairman said : Has this been done ?-Mr and put in the flusher, but there is no question that the cock explained that they had previously tried the main about the middle of Bridgegete; but in this instance they were controlled by the resolution of last meeting, which empowered the Works Committee to obtain nother flusher for that part of the street from Mr R. the clerk was instru Hall's shop to the bridge.—Mr Raine described the effect, in each case, pressure of an ordinary flusher as comparable only to a hydrant or common water-closet. It wanted something to confine the volume of water, and bring the pressure immediately to bear upon it.—The Chair-man : The question is, will the pressure do anything else?—As Mr Steele understood the motion of last meeting it was to ascertain if the whole of the main was clear; and, for the Work's Committee, in superin-tending the flushing, to have a very small compass to work in-or conduct the experiments in short lengths, -to command pressure.-Some desultary conver-tion ensued; and Mr Richardson said : There will be a new committee formed this morning and, if there is no objection, we will refer this matter to to their consideration .- The question was left accordingly.

FINANCE.

The finance committee reported a balance in the bank of £220 0s. 8d.—Mr Richardson: I more that a cheque of f_{200} be voted to day for the partial repay-ment of a loan.—Mr Brownless: Who are you going to pay it to?-Mr Richardson : Mr Longstaff will take it.-Mr Holmes : Don't leave us without money for current expenses. ... Mr Brownless : There is plenty of money. ... It was understood that the collection of the rates vas being proceeded with..... Mr Richardson : I notice in the minutes there is a bill running longer than a year; and I don't thick it is desirable for the Board to have their accounts standing more than one year.—Mr Brownless: They should be sent in quarter-tion of the service-pipes into Mr Bayles' cellar had been satisfoctoriey accomplished. NUISANCE.

Attention was directed to the existence of a nuimnes in the Back Lone, on premises occupied by Mr Geo. Dalston. It was stated that offal from the slaughter-Mr Watson then resumed his seat, and in thanking the Board for the esteem in which his services were held, way, and the efflurium was calculated to produce illness.—It was agreed that notice should be given to Mr Dalston to discontinue the practice.

> DRAIN. The Inspector reported the stoppage of a drain in Thorngate, which he said was owing to some one in Mr Fieldhouse's employment having tampered with a public hydrant .- Inquiry to be made.

> > WASTE OF WATER.

The Chairman, examining the Inspector's book, said-Here are two very good cases with which to deal. In each case I should insist upon a better desdrain is completely stopped-up. Mr Raine: Did cription of tap being put in, or the option of being you try a place further on in Bridgegate?—Mr B.d. summoned before the magistrates, and committed for cock explained that they had previously tried the main wilful waste of water.—The Clerk had some Kilmarnock taps in readiness.—Mr Martin : In case of tenement householders, the taps will be at the joint expense of the owners .- After some further conver the clerk was instructed to give notice to the above

MISCELLANZOUS.

Mr Steele wished to call the attention of the Board to the bad state of the road leading from the churchard to the Infant School, -The chairman said be would ike the whole of the members to submit their memoranda to the clerk, with respect to any improvementa, dc., and they would be considered altogether by the Board. There were several matters which had come up during the year, and which had been postponed, to ee if there were funds for their completion ; and as the clerk would put the whole of the suggestions on paper, and submit them collectively to the Board, he would desire any member who had any memoranda of this nature to let the clerk have them.—During the meeting Mr Richardson said : I think the whole quesion of our offices, and their remuneration, ought to be considered, and whether they are properly distributed for the purposes of the Board

OUEEN STREET.

QUEN-STREET. The question of deviation in the sewage-pipes, in the property of Mr Smith, was discussed at considerable ength ; and the Board, by resolution, determined to take no further action in the matter.
