MAJOR T. BERNARD HESLOP, D.S.O., of the Durham Light Infantry, is at home on three weeks' convalescent leave. Major Heslop was awarded the D.S.O. in June last for services rendered while in command of his battalion during active operations. He was wounded on the 30th May, and has been in hospital at Plymouth until the present time.

WE regret to announce that Captain Dugdale of Gilmonby Hall, was, on Tuesday afternoon, while grouse shooting, accidentally hit under the right eye with a pellet. The accident happened about three o'clock, and Dr. Leishman was summoned the same evening. The gallant Captain has gone to Newcastle to be X-rayed, in the hope of locating the pellet. THE REV. J. T. PENROSE, Rector of Petworth, and formerly Vicar of Barnard Castle, is on a visit to Barningham.

MR AND MRS J. BAILEY, Wood-street, Barnard Castle, have received the following letter from Sergt. A. Burt, under date August 15th: "It is with deep regret that I inform you of the death of your son, Private J, Bailey, of the fruitful service to the cause of our country Durham Light Infantry, who was killed in action on the 9th inst. He was one of our best and bravest, and we deplore his loss very much indeed. But it is only at the price of gallant UPPER DALE NOTES. lives like his that we are able to withstand the flerce, unrelenting attacks of the enemy We all wish to convey to you our high apprecia tion of his conduct, and our deep sympathy with you in your bereavement." It may be added that the deceased soldier had only been in France six weeks when he met his death. SHOOTING commenced on the Gilmonby moors on Monday, over dogs, the party numbering three. On the following day five guns were shooting driven grouse. ARISING out of the death of Sir Jonathan E Backhouse, at the Startforth Council meeting, on Wednesday, Mr J. S. Helmer, manager of Mesars Barclay's branch bank at Barnard Castle, was appointed treasurer.

MR ROBERT STODDART, Newgate, Barnard Castle, received a letter on Sunday morning, from the commanding officer at Plymouth, intimating that Mr Stoddart's twin son, George, was extremely ill, and was under observation. Miss Madge Stoddart, the young man's sister went to Plymouth on Friday night.

THURSDAY was the day fixed for the annual outing of Sunday school scholars in Barnard Castle. St. Mary's were given a free exhibition of pictures at the Victoria Hall, and were afterwards regaled with a war-time tea in the A Trial Order Solicited.

THE REV. H. W. H. BIRCHAM, Vicar of Barnard Castle, has interceded with the military authorities on behalf of Mr and Mrs Smith, Bridgegate, who have lost five sons in that a humane feeling exists, having in view the terrible tell by death sustained the family and that the bright young soldier now in the town may accordingly have consideration extended to him in the nature of his future service. Private W. Smith has been on active service in France for over a year. PROBATE and letters of administration with the will of the late Sir Christopher George Francis Maurice Cradock, Rear Admiral, Royal Navy, K.C.V.O., C.B., of Government Wilton Seamless Carpet, Crimson Ground House, Hartforth House, Jamaica, and of Hartforth, who died at sea on the 1st of November, 1914, has been lodged in His Majesty's Commissiary Court, Edinburgh, in order that the estate may be made effective in Scotland. The amount of estate shown is £1,055. He desires that his medals, orders, epaulettes and sword should be placed together, and says that perhaps his brother, Major Sheldon Cradock, would like them at

In reference to the bereaved Smith family in Bridgegate, for whom the deepest commiser ation is felt and expressed, Lieut. W. E. Meikle, of the Durham Light Infantry, has sent a letter, under date 11th August instant, addressed to Mrs Smith, 1, Thorngate, Barnard Castle, in which he says Mrs Smith's husband, who was wounded whilst in action during July 21st-28th, has since died of his injuries. Deceased had previously been wounded in March, and the writer says they feel that they have lost a gallant comrade. "My platon suffered very heavily during that Sunday, and in the following day's fighting, and I consider myself very fortunate to be one of the survivors," concludes Lieut. Meikle.

To-DAY is the local farmers' flag day for the British Red Cross funds. The collectors in each district have had a good response. Oliver, Home Farm, Greta Bridge, reports up to now 234 19s 6d. The scheme of war saving certificates to be drawn for is expected to raise a further amount. A pleasant evening whist drive will follow later.

Amongst the numerous residents of Cotherstone who have passed away during the last few weeks, perhaps none will be more missed than Mr James Tyerman, who for nearly fifty years has carried on the business of a joiner and painter. In an unobtrusive way he was trusted the collection will be in as LARGE always ready to lend a helping hand to any good cause in the village, and perhaps no one worked harder on the local flower show committee, or as a collector for the hospital funds. In connection with the latter, it seems almost pathetic that after labouring so hard to increase the funds of the Darlington Hospital he should breathe his last within its walls, for, after a very serious operation Tyerman passed away on August 3rd. The interment took place at the Catholic burial ground, at Lartington, and was attended by his daughter and three sons. Two grandsons Mr Clifford and Mr Edward Tverman were unable to be present, as they are both in France Mr Tyorman's death has left a gap in the village which it will be hard to fill, and his kindly actions and willing help will be much missed. Of him it may truly be said, "He hath done what he could."

On Sunday first, at three and eight, in the Victoria Hall, Barnard Castle, the well-known Canadian lecturer, Mr J. J. Sims, will give his electric lecture on "The Great War, and the Angels at Mons," with 150 coloured war views. This lecture has crowded the largest halls throughout the country, having to be repeated at Bishop Auckland and other places. The Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Durham says: "All that I know of your enterprise assures me that alike from the patriotic side, and the christian, you are rendering real and

UPPER DALE NOTES.

[BY OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

There was a good company present at the organ recital given in Laithkirk Church on Wednesday night by Mr John H. Batton, Mus. Bac. The varied programme was greatly appreciated, and the effort was on behalf of the organ fund.

Mrs Namey Lee, of Holwick, celebrated her 85th birthday on Friday last, and received many congratulations.

There was general regret in Middleton last week when it became known that Mrs Walton. Wesley-terrace, had received official news that her huband, Lance-Corpl. G. W. Walton, had been killed in action in France. Lance-Corpl. Walton, who was a Territorial, was one of the first to join the army from Middleton, and went to France in April, 1915. He was wounded on the Somme in February, 1917, was sent home in January of this year, and called up again on the 8rd of April. The greatest sympathy is felt for the bereaved widow and the five young children who are left.

Mr A. Rapp, J.P., Saltburn, was the special presence on Sunday last, at the Middleton Wesleyan Church, and Mr J. T. Gardner, Frosterley, occupied the pulpit at the Primitive Church.

THE death has taken place in Devonshire of Bewling Tournament at Barnard Castle.

The latter is now on furlough, and it is understood were fortunate enough to secure become, Mr Nelson getting into the last four and Mg Bewick into the last eight. Death of Staindrop Octogenarian.

The death took place on Saturday night of Mr Richard Jackson, of Masham House, Staindrop, formerly in business as a catalo dealer, at the age of 80 years. Mr Jackson, who was a native of Staindrop, enjoyed remarkable faculties until about a month ago, and was able to recount in detail happenings to his early lifetime. The death of his only son, George, who was associated with him in the business of cattle dealing, and who died in February last, was a greet blow to the family, and from which the deceased never seemed to recover. It is sad to relate that Mr Jackson's nephew, Charles, who succeeded him in the butchering business, also died in November last. Mr Jackson, who was predeceased by his wife, leaves two daughters to mouro his lost.
