DEPUTATION OF BUTCHERS ATTENDS. A meeting of this body was held on Wednesday afternoon, Mr James Peacook presiding.

There were also present Miss Stobart and Mrs Bowes, and Messre T. Metcalfe, T. Bayles, T. H. Plows, T. W. Garth, W. Dent, G. V. Tarn, T. O. Nicholson (olerk), J A. Gargett (executive officer), and W. Porter (inspector).

Live Stock and Dead Meat Distribution. The committee thought that the new meat order was more applicable to towns than to rural areas, and then proceeded to consider the scheme for the control of live stock and dead meat distribution, forms in connection with which having been sent down, and were then in course of duplication .- It was stated that a deputation of butchers would attend the meeting at 3:30 that afternoon, and the Clerk observed that they were bound by the cont, on the sales for that month, he was his beart was to do honour to them. Have Milk Producers to be Registered ? Mr Tern asked if it was necessary for all milk producers to be registered ? - The Clerk : Apparently, adpording to the order, it would not affect you as a producer. - Mr Tarn : If those who have to plough out land are immuce, that is what made me think that producers had to be registered .- Mr Dent : If you sell milk at all you have got to be registered -The Clerk : This order affects wholesale dealers other than producers. - Mr Tarn : The point is not clear .- The Clerk : I should say that this order does not affect you at all .-Under the above soheme a producer of milk apparently need not register as such, but all wholesale milk dealers must apply to the scretary, Ministry of Food, Whitehall, S.W. 1 for a license after 15th January, 1918. All retailmilk sellers about apply to their Local Food Committee in the same manner.--ED.]

Enter the Butchers. Mrs Dent, Mickleton; and Messys Gill, Cotherstone; Bainbridge, Barningham; and Dowson and Clarkson, then entered the room, and the Clerk informed them that the Ministe of Food had sent out a circular asking that retail butchers should be asked to meet the committee, and themselves to form a committee, with a chairman and secretary, and appoint one or more buying agents, the latter taking a number of certificates to market to facilitate distribution. They could not get any beats unless they were registered, and

MILITARY MEDAL PRESENTED IN THE WITHAM HALL.

A FINE SOLDIER HONOURED. Last Saturday night there was a fairly large adience in the Witham Hall, Barnard Castle when Sergeant P. Finn, of the 6th Battalion Durham Light Infantry, who is a untive of the town, became the recipient of a Military Medal, which had been awarded for conspications bravery in the field. Mr C. Hedley, Chairman of the Urban Council, presided, and there were also present Mrs Bernard Heslop, wife of Major Bernard Healop, second in command of the 6th Durhams, and Major J. W. B. Healop, Lieutenant R. Morton, Lieutenant L. H. Barnard, Lieutenant J. Wiseman, Second Lieutenant R J. Billey, and the non sioned officers and men respectively of the Barnard Castle and Startforth Volunteer Sections, the Rev. A. L. Manby and others.

The Chairman said they were there that night to do honour to another of their heroes, of whom they were all proud. As be had said before, they could not all fight, but they could Bood Controller to a reduction of 50 per cent. on the October retail sales.—Mr Dent : The do the best they could not all fight, but they sould supply will limit them. It is not there to be comfortable and happy. Sergeant Finn was got.—The Clerk said provisional returns had the son of a good father, and they were there come in from some butchers, and in the case of to recognize his bravery. He was proud that one Kelton butchet he had said " none " for the they had so many herois lads of the old town month of October, and, being limited to 50 per now at the front-(applause)-and the pride of

We made our list on the 26th of being second in command and another was in October .- Mr Garth : The Food Controller has a lower station. Sergt. Finn was a great come round and has put the producers' prices favourite in the 6th Durhams, and the medal lower than they were when we fixed our he was about to receive, and which he had prices.—The Chairman : Butchers cannot sell carned at great risk to his life, told them of meat advantageously at less than we fixed it his baving made possible a movement which -Mr Plews suggested that the matter stand ended in his battalion, the day following the over till the butchers' committee was formed. 4th of October, taking 250 prisoners. (Loud -- Mr Garth : Hear what the butchers say. I applause). Actions like that deserved the merit such as Sergt. Finn was going to receive shat night. It ought to be a great pride for the town of Barnard Castle to know that they had sent out men like Sergt. Finn, and a great number of others, who did their duty well, and indeed so well that they were earning prominence such as they were recognizing that night. (Applause). Barnard Castle had done excel-lently, and he reminded them that many had given their lives, " whilst we at home gramble that we don't get sufficient bacon. Pray remember when you are beginning to grouse that the Food Controller limits your supply that this is small in proportion to the trouble and dangers borne by our lade at the front, There ought to be a little more self-sacrifice in the people." (Applause). Mrs Bernard Hesiop then pinned the medal to the gallant Sergeant's breast in tumultumus applause, congratulating him on his great achievement, mean while the Volunteers stood to attention.

Sorgt. Finn appropriately thanked the large andience for their kindness, and especially Mrs Bernard Healop for her services that night. (Applause). The Chairman having asked the peaple to support the concert to-morrow night in ald of Durham Prisoners of War, the national anthem was heartily supp and the proceedings terminated.

Yolunteers' Whist Drive and Dance. commissioned officers and men of the local detachment of the 4th Battalion Durham County Volunteer Regiment, a most enjoyable dead weight. Last week I had one allotted to me which was 62 stores live weight, which in the Witham Hall, on Thursday evening last. the 17th inst. About 260 persons participated in the evening's programme. Some delay in commencing "play" was occasioned by the accessity of providing additional tables and seating for inte comers-the bane of enter tainment promoters-but presumably the genial and efficient president, Mr H. Hobson was able to start his teams, and all went merrily. Midway through the games an interval was announced for retreatments, which were handed round by the Voluateer bosts, who fell into file, and soon had al bountifully supplied—an event in these days of restrictions. The play was then resumed, and, at the end of the card, the prize-winners were sorted out-no casy task when so many proved eligible. Amid scenes of fun and banter, the following were declared winners of the handsome prizes provided by the Command ing Officer, and handed to the recipients by Major Heslop, who did his best in the absence of any Commanding Officer's lady :--lat prize, Miss M. Gent; booby prize, Miss Orefs; sealed prizes, Mrs Keen, Miss Stephenson, Miss Wood, Miss L. Chatt; first prize (gentle-men), Mr W. Abbott; booby prize, Mr J. W. Raine : sealed prizes, Private J. Appleby, M. R. Chapman.—The genial Major took the opportunity of urging those civilians who had not yet donned the "khaki" to do so at once. If, as some said, "there was no darger," then the drill would do them no harm; and if there was danger, then he was no man who shirked doing his bit. He had no respect for these men who, when subject to conscription, had joined the Volunteers, but, when exempted. had backed out. - When willing hands had removed the chairs and tables, the room was speedily prepared for dancing, which was at once engaged in to the excellent music provided by Mr Wightmap. The Witham Hall lights, as in Belgium's Capital, "shone o'er fair women and brave men : a thousand hearts beat happily : and all went merry as a marriage bell." Fortunately there was no "whispering with white lips, 'The foe ! They come ! They come !' " and it was possible to " on with the dance, let joy be unconfined," till the small hours, when the party reluctabily dispersed. after an evening, of unmarred enjoyment, the bandsome profiss of which will go to swell the funds of the War Emergency Committee who are doing such a good work for our soldiers and other sufferers through the war. Great credit is due to the officers, and Sergeants B. Welford, G. H. Welford, and Corporal Burt, with other belpers, who carried out the arrangements so efficiently .- A cordial invitation sent to the North Riding Volunteers to take part in the function was fully responded to, Captain Bell-Irving and his company contributing either patronage or presease.
