LOCAL AND OTHER NOTES.

WE are informed that in the Sessions Court held in London, last Wednesday, no charge was preferred against Miss Joyce Steele, of Barnard Castle, and, in the case of Miss Foden Wilson, the charge was withdrawn. A verdict of "not guilty" was returned, and both were acquitted.

On and from the 28th instant the hours of public business at the Head Post-Office at Barnard Castle, and all telegraph post-offices in the district, will be 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. The mid-day closing, 12-30 p.m. to 2 p.m., at the Head Office, will cease.

LAST night the churchwardens were reelected at the vestry meeting, and the total income was £414, the balance being £4 5s 3d. The interior of the church is to be renovated, further particulars may be obtained from the the organ enlarged, and church rooms erected. Mr J. G. Hall was elected a representative to the ruri-decanal conference, and Mr Lowes Silicitors, Barnard Castle. thanked for his good work.

MR A. P. H. HOLMES, M.C., B.Sc., the Grove, Barnard Castle, has been elected an associate nember of the Institute of Civil Engineers. MR THOMAS ADDISON, Strand Foot, B owe WEDNESDAY, MAY 7TH, 1919, at 3 o'clock in the Afternoon (subject to the Conditions of Sale of the Durham and North Yorkshire Law 28th of May two years ago, making a total of Society and such Special Conditions of Sale nine live lambs in less than two years. Many old sheep-farmers regard this as a record.

THE remains of the late Miss Clara C. Lucas were cremated at Darlington on Thursday afternoon. The deceased lady was an occasional visitor at Barnard Castle, and her philanthropic work was widely known. Mr G. C. Lee, of Marwood-terrace, attended the obsequies.

THERE was a large influx of visitors to Tees dale at Eastertide, lodging accommodation being difficult to obtain. Motoring being -Stalled Byre, Barn, 2-Stalled Stable, Cartreleased, the converging roads swarmed with cars and cycles, and the weather being thoroughly spring-like, the holiday was greatly enjoyed.

THE Zetland Foxhounds will finish the season, to-day, at Richmond, the meet being at half-past eleven.

AT a meeting at the Vicarage, which will not soon be forgotten, the Lay Readers wished Mr Joseph Lowes an affectionate farewell on his leaving Barnard Castle for Hartlepool. For more than thirty years he has worked difigently and gratuitously in this parish, and is departure is sincerely regretted. CAPTAIN H. BOAZMAN, son of the late Mr Henry Boazman, Acorn Bank, and of Mrs Boazman, Aycliffe, Penrith, and formerly of Barnard Castle, has been appointed a Member of the British Empire in recognition of his services as Brigade Transport Officer in the East Anglian campaign.

Motorists crossing Stainmore on Easter Monday for Barnard Castle had stories to tell of drifted snow several feet in height, with a prevailing bitter wind. Some of the travellers wondered if the poetic line of Richard Allison s near fulfilment-" rosebuds filled with snow."

THE Royal Commission on the Sugar Supply desires to notify that it is prepared during th months of June and July to supplement the ordinary issue of augar by a quantity sufficient to meet the normal requirements of those ersons who in the past have been in the habit of preserving fruit, whether grown by themselves, or bought, for domestic use.

At the Newcastle-on-Tyne Open Dog Show, on Easter Monday, Mr E. A. Metcalfe's wire-haired fox terrier, "Winning War Loan," followed up its successes of the fortnight previous, at Gateshead, where it won three firsts, special for best dog in the county, and special for the best exhibit in the show, by winning five firsts and special, including first in any variety, open, and was the admiration of a big crowd of spectators.

YESTERDAY morning, at a meeting of the Ancient Select Vestry, Mr R. Woodhams was appointed vestryman in the place of the late Mr J. Hanby Holmes. Mr Blowse got the old man's money, which charity was then vacant.

SCENES AT THE CHAIRMANSHIP ELECTION. Mr Hedley Warmly Thanked for his Really

Excellent Services. A special meeting of the members of the Urban District Council was held on Wednesday night. Those present included Messrs anth, Guy, Hedley, Woodhams, Liddle, Singer, Waine, Wiseman, Walker, Hedgaen, the Rev. H. W. H. Bircham, and Mr J. I Dawson (clerk). A change came over the acone. As one reflected on two of the most famous in the list of Charlemangue's twolve peers, we were reminded of the ability of new and old debaters alike to impact a "Rowland for an Ollver." not that there was remancing, but rather appress of expression and forceful apposite argument. The main business was confined to the election of chairman, and there was an atmosphere of fixed fate and foreknowledge absolute. Mr Smith presided in the initial stages, and in turning on the casam. he, like Juliet, swore not by the incorstant moon, nor Jupiter's deadly glamour, in his deciaration that five micutes' occupaccy of the civic chair was the measure and substance of his ambition. In proposing the re-election for the third time in succession of the retiring chairman, whom he characterised as the only gonry" on the Council-recognized as such, he emphasized, by the executive of the Nurth Eastern Cyclists' Meet, who had given Mr Hedley a souvenir as an organiser, and which body of wheelmen were raiding the town or ca more in the coming Whitsuntide-and, added Mr Smith, both inside and outside the Council, Mr Hedley had won his spurs, though the speaker, to extend the sporting idiom, seemed to five chance. Mr Liddle seconded the nomination in an ungarnished story of the late Chairman's yeoman service to charities in his term of office-a fact which the entire community readily admits. And there was a saiff in the air of favours secret, sweet end precious, which the powers that be might allocate to veterans for work already well done. Henry Fielding said modesty was a candle to a man's merit, and surely there was nothing extravagant said in commendation of Mr Hedley. But in the Old Latin is a saying-" tempora mutantur, nos et mutamur in illis" and now for what the French call " jet d'eau," though in all fairness the shower was topid. It is true, as we have said, that the times are perpetually changing, and we with the times. And so it came to pass that Mr Wiseman found pleasure in proposing the Vicar, and in confiding to Mr Redley that two years in office was a good stretch in a membership of twelve. His cominee, claimed the mover, had shown in a marked degree his capacity for efficiency, wide experience and general capability, and, further, Mr Bircham had just been before the rate-payers, who had signified in an unmistakable nanner their appreciation of him. - Mr Walker Waine, in seconding, held that where men were qualified the honors should go round. Mr Singer was very sorry that there should be a division, because he thought the chairman should at the outset have the unanimous support of the Council. "I am strongly opposed to any gentleman holding the chairmanually for more than one year, I don't care who he may be. I never allow my principles to take second place, and, though I may sacrifice friends, my principles are dearer still to me."-This is ample confirmation of the mutations of time, for there was an old stages in the room who was present for ten or fifteen consecutive years when the late Colonel Watson was re-elected chairman of the old Board of Health, a canon of which budy was reasonable economy. - The voting revealed the Vicar elected by 6 votes to 5, and the Chairman-elect, by special resolution, generously schnowledged Mr Hedley's worth, while the late Chairman replied in four words : " Well,

I thank you."

Death of a Local Soldier from Embolism.

Alec Welford, the eldest soldier son of Mr and Mrs Frank Welford of the Bowes' Arms, Galgate, was playing billiards at the Oyclists' Club on Tuesday night week, and early the following morning died at home, the cause being certified as embolism. Dr. Leishman was called in. The decoased was in France in 1915, he having joined the Northumberland Fusiliers, and afterwards the tank corps, with which he remained notil his demobilization last Bebruary. By trade the deceased was a blacksmith, and had been at work for about three weeks. He was 28 years of age. The interment took place on the afternoon of Good Friday, quite a large aumber of townspeople attending the obsequies, including many near relatives and acquaintances. The Vicar Ar G. Raine, of Darlington, had a very serious motor-cycle accident in Grassh ime Lane on Saturday afternoon. He was riding down the lane with another young man (and of Mr G. Raine, Select), when he appears to have lost control of the machine, and both were flung off. Dr Beadle was summoned, and found the injuries of the driver to be very serious. Mr Raine is well known in the district, having previous to going to Darlington lived at Bowhank. Some years ago he had no accident whilst employed with the Lanedale Whinstone Company, which resulted is both legs having to be partially amputated, and he now has false limbs. The other young man was also injured, but not so hadly.

BARNARD CASTLE.—Divine service was held on Good Friday morning in the Wesleyan Methodist Church. Galgate, the preacher being the Rev. H. P. Boaze.—On Easter hunday morning the subject of the sermon by the Rev. R. Lang was on the meaning and import of Easter—the open door to a large life. The Preacher referred to the pointed questions which had appeared in the secular press a few days before—"What answer do you give to life at Easter? What answer to the Creator of a world like this?" It is the answer to these questions, said the Preacher, that many an honest searcher will make good, at least, at some point of contact with divine and everlasting certainties, and perchance come to know and adore Him, who alone is the full explanation of things unseen and eternal. Jesus Christ, claims to be the eternally living, who suffered death as an exprience, and found it, not what men thought it—the closed door—but the open door to the suarise of a life which shall never have an ending. Easter Day is the stone rolled away from the grave of our humanity. Humanity has arisen in Jesus Christ, and in Him is slive for evermore. FINE DISCOURSE BY THE REV. ROBINSON LANG.
