COCKFIELD AGRICULTURAL SHOW. Important Statement by Mr. H. L. Fife, J.P.

Over sixty years ago there was a premium show at Cockfield, but the Cornishs and Lads of mettle of that day would scarcely dream that the society reorganised twelve years ago would attain the high-water mark of efficiency which was registered on Monday.

THE Chairman proposed "Success to the Cockfield Agricultural Society," and would like to take the opportunity of congratulating the committee upon their courage and pluck in promoting the show this year.

DEATH OF MR ROBERT ARROWSMITH, BANK, BARNARD CASTLE.

Last night Mr Robert Arrowsmith, butcher, Barnard Castle, died at the age of 55 years. He was for some years a most useful member of the Urban Council, and evinced practical sympathy and help to the local Agricultural Society, he being on the council of that body.

UPPER DALE NOTES. [BY OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT] A wedding of much local interest took place at the Parish Church, Romaldkirk, on Saturday last, the contracting parties being Mr Jonathan Natrass, youngest son of Mr and Mrs Natrass, keeper, Pikesstone, Holwick, and Miss Sarah Annie Bainbridge, Romaldkirk.

THE monthly meeting in connection with the Middleton Women's Institute was held in the Wesleyan school-room on Tuesday night week. There was a fair attendance, over which Mrs Beadle presided.

THE TEESDALE MERCURY. BARNARD CASTLE, AUGUST 6TH, 1919.

LOCAL AND OTHER NOMECLATURE. It is amusing to notice how, sometimes, the names of persons and places have become transformed in their passage from mouth to mouth, and what grotesque shapes they have often assumed when not properly handed down in writing.
