LOCAL AND OTHER NOTES.

LORD BARNARD has informed the Urban Council that he will endeavour to carry out the duties of trusteeship in connection with the Bowes Museum to their satisfaction.

As the number of fishing permits (which ar gratuitously granted by the Right Hon. the Lord Barnard from the Raby Estates Office) for fishing in the River Tees and tributaries has already been considerably exceeded for this season, it has been found necessary to close the list forthwith, especially as holde of permits are very remiss in observing one of the conditions on which they are granted, viz.: That if renewal is desired permits should e returned with an intimation to this effect at the close of each fishing season.

JOHN BAMPTON, who founded the Bampton ectures, died in 1751. In the terms of his will, these lectures are to be given at Oxford on Sunday mornings. They are to be based or one of the following subjects: To confirm and establish the christian faith, upon the divine authority of the holy scriptures: upon the writings of the primitive fathers: the divinity of the Saviour and of the Holy Spirit and the creeds; and the lecturer is chosen by the heads of colleges, and must be a graduate of Oxford or Cambridge. CAPTAIN THE HON. R. F. VANE, son of the late Lord Barnard, has been placed on the retired list on account of ill-health caused by wounds. He was formerly a cadet-corporal in the Cambridge University Officers' Training Corps, and in November, 1913, took up a second-lieutenancy in the 4th Battalion Durham Light Infantry (Barnard Castle Special Reserve), his father's battalion. In the early days of the war he was attached to the 2nd ("Faithful Durhams") for active service in France.

MR F. C. DALGARNO is superintending the formation of a bowling-green at Stockton for the use of the workmen employed at the South Durham Steel and Ironworks, he having purchased the necessary turf "out west," last

MR H. C. WATSON has publicly and very opportunely drawn attention to a proposal to improve the road skirted by the tram-wall, and to the dangerous approaches of the county bridge. The matter is being considered by the North Riding County Council.

It has been agreed to extend the scope of operations in selecting land for workmen's houses at Barnard Castle, the number of the field on the ordnance map alone being sufficient for the district valuer.

THE parents of the late Sapper G. H. Nevison 218th Field Company, Royal Engineers, have received from Major-General A. S. Lambert, manding 32nd Division Army-on-the-Rhine a certificate in memory of gallantry and devotion shown while serving with the 32nd Division during the War, 1914-1918, and especially during the final advance from Amiens to Avesnes, between 8th August and 11th November, 1918.

THE minimum rates of wages for agricultural workers having been varied by the Agricultural Wages Board, it is open to workers who hold permits of exemption to have, if they so desire, the terms of the same reconsidered, and for this purpose such workers in Northumberland and Durham should communicate with the Secretary, District Wages Committee, 116, Pilgrim-street, Newcastle-upon-Tyne.

AFTER a long period of suspense, Mrs Tait, of Raby Castle Lodge, has now received an official intimation that her son, Lance-Corporal Harry Tait, 7th Battalion Durham Light Infantry, died through an explosion at St. Ormes when in German hands on July 14th, 1918. Lance-Corpl. Tait, who was 23 years of age, was of a kind and jovial disposition, and his untimely death under such distressing circumstances is regretted by all who knew him. He was an active member of the Hope of Staindrop Good Templar Lodge, and deep sympathy is felt for Mrs Tait, who has now lost two sons in the war. Lance-Corpl. H. Tait is buried at Ramiecourt.

THE Rev. Robinson Lang, of Raby Avenue who has been somewhat seriously indisposed was so far recovered at the end of last weel as to be able to preach anniversary sermons a Low Fell, Gateshead, on Sunday.

MR C. HEDLEY announced at the Urban Council meeting, on Thursday night, that the conveniences in the Market Place will be temporarily decorated for Whitsuntide, and that a scheme for the permanent decorating by tree planting, and so on, had been under-taken by Mr F. C. Dalgarno.

THE Bishop of Jarrow confirmed twelve boys and thirteen girls from Barnard Castle, and five boys and three girls from Whorlton at a special service in St. Mary's Church on Monday night. In his address Dr. Quirk gave an example prayer of a Wellingtonian soldier:
"O, God, for Christ's sake, give Thy Holy Spirit to me," and as a confirmation motto "I can do all things through Christ, Who

THE President of the Cyclists' Meet (Mr John Elliott) and Mrs Elliott, jun., issue an open invitation to the public of Barnard Castle to attend their reception in the Inner Bailey next Tuesday morning, at 11-30 o'clock. To-MORROW afternoon Lord Barnard will open the exhibition of War Pictures at the Bowes Museum.

THE Secretary of the Barnard Castle branch of the National Union of Railwaymen reports that the sum of £11 12s. was realised from the benefit night at the Wycliffe Picture Hall, in aid of the railway orphanage, and will be forwarded to the head office.

MR THOMPSON GRADON, managing director of Mesers Gradon and Sons, Limited, wholesale provision merchants, Newcastle-on-Tyne, died on Saturday, in his 75th year. The deceased gentleman was a regular visitor to Barnard Castle, where he attended the Congregational Church, he being treasurer of the Northumber land and Durham Congregational Union, governor of the Bradford Educational College, and a trustee of the Lady Hewley Charity.

In the Darlington Branch of the Nationa Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children and Child Neglect, during the month of April, four cases were dealt with, affecting 1914 was the first year in more than one hundred years that the Barnard Castle Agricul-tural Show has not been held, the society being established in 1799.

THERE are vacancies for five clubs in the Barnard Castle and District Football League. THE late Roman Catholic Archbishop Ullathorne, when visiting "Cousin Longstaff" at Barnard Castle, confirmed Mrs J. Smith and at Barnard Castle, confirmed Mrs J. Smith and Mrs Scarre. The late Mrs Roe knew the Archbishop's mother, who said what an "untidy" boy he always was, and yet the Archbishop, who said mass in the little Warestreet Chapel, largely sealed the doom of transportation of criminals to Australasia by his evidence before Sir William Moleworth' Commission, which was laid before Parliament

ONE wonders if this description of the fruit crop is a forecast of the yield in this country in the autumn. The late Mr John Smith, writing from Garmisch, on Sunday, September 11th, 1910, says: "There are plenty of nice walks by the rivers, under the mountains. It certainly is a beatiful place. The apple trees are being propped—so full of fruit."

"PANTHER" has arrived at Epsom. Half-amillion are expected at the Derby, to-day.

Middleton-in-Teesdale Labour Party

The following resolution was adopted at a meeting of the above organization held on the 27th ult.:—"That this meeting demands the withdrawal immediately of British troops from Russis, and the repeal of the Conscription Act, and calls upon the whole of the Labour and Socialist organizations, to at once convene a national conference of delegates for the purpose of putting into action machinery which will force the Government to concede our demands. It further calls upon the Government to a tonce cancel the secret strike-breaking circulars which have been promulgated to officers commanding by the Army Council, and calls upon the Parliamentary Labour Party to use all the forces at its command with this end in view. It further places on record its thanks to the 'Daily Herald' for the fearless exposures it has made with regard to the above, and trusts that the workers will give it such support as will enable it to continue its fight for the emancipation of the proletariat."

Cricket Season Opened at Barnard

Castle. On Saturday last the Barnard Castle Cricket Club opened the season with a match against the York and Lancaster Regiment. The game was full of interest, and ended in a win for the town club. which batted first, Messrs Dawson and Chester doing splendid work, and contributing 45 and 40 runs respectively to a total of 110, Dawson taking 5 wickets for 11 runs. The soldiers replied with 71. Radeliffe, Bean and Lieut. Davies were the principal run-gotters.

Stoppage of the Milk Delivery at Barnard Castle.

The milk contretemps in this town was unfortunate. We are informed that, commencing on the 1st of May, the Divisional Commissioner, without any question, dropped the price of milk three-pence per quart. The Barnard Castle and Startforth Milksellers' Association protested, but agreed to carry on till the 1st of May at the reduced figure, on candition that the Food Control Committee would recommend a price that would compensate the vendors of milk for the loss sustained during the month of May. The Commissioner wrote to Mr John Wilkinson, the secretary of the association, and also to the Food Committee, asking for suggestions. The milksellers and the committee mutually agreed upon a quotation, and grave a recommendation jointly to the Commissioner, which it seems had not been acted upon. Last Thursday night a meeting of the association was held at the Raby Hotel, Mr Joseph Allison presiding. It was decided to cease delivering milk on Sunday, the lat June, unless they could influence the Commissioner to alter the prices as fixed by him—namely, is 8d per gallon for the June month. 2s for July and August, and 2s 4d for September. Mr Wilkinson spoke to the Commissioner over the telephone on Thursday afternoon, saking him whether he would receive a deputation from the association on the following day. This apparently was declined, and on Friday night and Saturday morning milk consumers were handed an official notice from the association setting forth that owing to the arbitrary order of the Food Controller for the Northern District, in fixing the price at 1s 8d per gallon—delivered or undelivered—they could not afford to deliver milk, but would sell it at the different dairies. Accordingly, on Sunday, people had to seek milk or do without. On Monday noon a further association meeting was held, when it was decided, owing to representations made on behalf of children, invalids and others, to re-commence the distribution of milk, which took place yesterday morning. Incidentally the Divisional Commissioner at Leeds notifi

The Vicar and the Carnival.

The Vicar and the Garnival.

The Vicar presided at the monthly meeting on Thursday night, when it was agreed that the highway be put into order at Springfield.—The Chairman said the President of the Oyclists' Meet had come over to see him, and he hoped that the members of the Council would do their best to make the gathering at Whitsuntide highly successful. He outlined the programme. the main features of which are not much altered in the post-war event, and earnestly trusted that as many members as possible would attend the drum-head service, and also the presidental address on the Monday morning, the tea at the vicarage in the evening, and the President's reception in the Inner Bailey, on the Tuesday morning. He honestly felt that he need not sak the members to assist him, because he knew they would do so.—Mr Hedley strongly advocated the decoration of the town.—Mr Woodhams: The Tradesmen's Association have taken the effort he was putting forth, which showed that he was effectively interested.—The Chairman: Thank you very much. I shall do all I can.—The committee had met Mr Richardson at his house and discussed the terms upon which the cemetery field could be offerd to the Council as a recreation grund. The offer, it transpired, was conditional upon Sanderson's Charity Land not being acquired for workmen's dwellings, as this would spoil his house for residential purposes. The negotiations were immediately broken off, and "your committee have to report that the matter is now at an end."—Moving approval, Mr Wiseman thanked the committee for their action in the question.

Lines on the Local Volunteers in the Great War.

The " Teesdale Detachment,' 4th Battalion Durham Light Infastry.

The following lines were spoken at the memorable dinner at the King's Head Hotel, Barnard Castle, on Thursday night, January When war's alarms first sounded in our land, And England's sons were called to face the foe; Our Barney Boys were foremost in the field, And did not wait till they were forced to go.

The Durham "Sixth," alresdy on their training, Right soon declared their ready will to fight, And nobly at the front have won their laurels, In many a hard-won battle for the right. What of the vet'ran men whom age debarred Said they,—" If e'en we cannot join them there, We mean to make the most of every chance."

At least we'll form a Force for Home Defence, And make ourselves prepared to "do our bit," In case the enemy should ever try To land upon our shores, Saltburn, to wit. To land upon our shores, Saltburn, to wit.

By Major Heslop drilled, we in the mill
"Formed fours," and formed platoon on left and right,
And learned to handle well our rifles too,
"Slope arms," "present," and "trail," on many a night
On Sundays, too, and on the summer days,
We tried extended drilling on the "Mains."
And on the County School's fine field of play,
We marched and counter-marched with utmost pains.

To satisfy our longing to improve, Some ventured far to Catterick's noted camp; And there, behold, attached to famous Scots, Our vet'ran Barney soldiers on the "ramp"!

"Smart" was the word, and "quick," too was the action Of those who'd emulate the nimble Scot; And early morn beheld us gaily at it, Our "physical" kept going at the trot. Gur "pnyacar " kept going at the trot.

Right proud were we of our Commander,
Who showed his metal there, as here;
And " Barnard " was a name commended there,
In camp; and we ourselves, his men, revere.

Next " Ravensworth's " fair Park claimed our regard, And in the camp made famous by the lads.
We drill'd and "fought" and were inspected too.
And e'en "commended," though we most were "dads

And e'en "commended," though we most were "da
At "Darlington" and "Durham" we were called
To meet our comrades of the Durham corps;
And carefully inspected by "Brass Hats,"
Were complimented for our gallant show.
Our Quartermaster-Sergeant, I must mention,
His services to all of us are known;
And "Walker, Barnard Castle," is as pop'lar
As "Walker, London," was in years now flown.

As "Walker, London," was in years now flown.
At Barney, not contented with the rifle,
We fain the Hotchkiss gun would try to tackle,
And soon, with Corp'ral Adams as our mentor.
We made the air in Deepdale Vale to cackle!
"Hold up your head," said genial Corp'ral Burt,
"As soldiers in the making ought to do;"
While he along with Sergeant Welford,
Tried hard to make us "civs" be soldiers too. Tried hard to make us "cive" be soldiers too.

And now the War in VICTORY is ended,
And that without our help in trench or field,
We know the Hun by gathering home defenders
Was forced to throw the sponge up quick and yield.

Now, though we have not stripe or medal borne,
To show of wounds severe and battles won;
At least we have the thought of good intent,
And, in "our bit," of duty fairly done.

Ednsy the Athlete of the Day.

In Queen's weather, and in the presence of a large attendance of parents and friends, the annual sports of this school took place on Thursday afternoon. The programme was more than usually attractive, and the numerous competitions exhibited fine expositions of muscular strength and physical endurance. The spartan achievements of Edney were reminisor used to coincide stadium, and he well upheld the good old market-town of Berwick-upon-Tweed, which in history is assigned a place of considerable importance as a barrier town, in the reign of Osbert, King of Morthumbris, and, according to Eosthius, was the place where the Dancs, under the conduct of Hubbs, landed on their invasion of England in the year 867. Every vestige of the Benedictine, numery, with the monasteries of Black, Grey, White and Trinitarian friars, and three or four hospitals, has long since disappeared. Edney, who is a magnificent athlete attached to Yosk House, was successful in winning the Clark, Richardson, and Victor Ludorum challenge cups, while Cooper, of the Durham House, won the ladies' cup. New Licensee at the Railway Hotel.

Mr T. B. Heslop applied for a protection order till the next transfer day in respect of the Raulway Hotel, Mrs Clarke, the wife of the present holder of the license, being in failing health, and desirous of leaving. Mr Purdy, of Cockfield, would take it over, the owner being Mr Lurcatt, of London. All parties had consented, the incoming tenant having assisted his father in an inn at Evenwood.—The Bench granted the application.

Fined and "cund Over: Absence of Chivalry.

A young man of 19, formerly in the army, named Thomas Swales or Linsley, was summoned on a charge of assaulting Susan A. Borrowdale (16), on May 11th, Mr T. B. Heslop appeared for the prosecutrix, and, from his opening statement, it was gathered that Miss Borrowdale and her sister were setting home Miss Charlotte Clarke, who is a land girl in Marwood, and, when they had got so far up the town by way of the Scar, they met two soldiers and talked with them for a minute. Defendant and a man called Brass came up and accosted them, Swales, as he had been instructed, being under the influence of drink. At any rate he was excited. He made an indecent proposition, and wanted to set the land worker home to Marwood. This she refused and the girls were considerably annoyed. Defendant offered the girl a pound if she would let him set her home. Complainant said: "You can go to Bridgegate, where you belong." Defendant took off his cust and struck her with his haid, and the matter would have been made worse had not a soldier intervened, and pulled him off. Miss Clarke had been accosted morethan once by the defendant, and was positively straid of him. The viris went straight back to their father's house, and Mr Borrowdale, that night, reported the occurrence to the police, and next day took out a summons. Mr and Mrs Borrowdale had to accompany Miss Clarke into Marwood, where her employer provided them with supper, and they did not gel-back till three o'clock next morning.—Private Edwards, of the York and Lancaster Regiment, said he could not ideatify the man in court, but the two men in question were the worse for drink. He desied that the girl struck the defendant.—Charlotte Clarke bore out Mr Heslop's statement and said the language used was not fit for any young girl to hear.—Mr J. T. Borrowdale, becoming anxious, said he went to the street-end to look for his daughters, and complainant returned about 10.30 in an agitated state.—Mr Hicks said the case involved a conflict of eviden Fined and "cund Over : Absence of Chivalry.

Beach were unanimous in their opinion to convict, and Swales or Linsley would be fined £1 and costs, and he would also be bound over in £5 to be of good behaviour for six months.

Clearly a Case for the County Court. A Butterknowle miner, named Theodore Parkin, answered a summons charging him with having wilfully damaged crops in the garden of John F. Woodward, at Wood-row, Butterknowle, on the 13th of May.—According to the complainant's story the defendant's hens had destroyed a bed of eschalots, and he was pursuing for damages.—The Clerk (Mr H. C. Watson) advised the Court that proceedings could not be upheld in a criminal court, and that the case was one for the County Count.—The Bench dismissed the

Two Dogs Without a License. John Allen Brown, labourer, churchyard, was fined 10s for naving kept two dogs without a license.

Conviction for game Trespass. John Allen Brown, labourer, Churchyard, Barnard Castie, appeared in answer to a summons charging him with having trespassed in search of game on land belonging to Lord Barnard, and in the occupation of Messrs Thomas Thompson and Thomas Oliver, at Barnard Castle, on May 17th.—George Macdonald, a watcher, said he saw a soldier and a civilian ranging the above land on the 17th of May. The new lodied to the wood on seeing witness. He now identified the man in court as the civilian he saw in the fields.—Defendant: I was never there.—Mr Watson, Golden Lion, gave evidence, as did P.O. Tyrrell, and defendant was fined 10s including costs.
