LOCAL AND OTHER NOTES.

MR W. EMERSON, who has been Headmaster of the Council School at Barnard Castle since 1878, is retiring this month.

The REV. FRANCIS B. WYATT, of Axminster, will undertake all duties at the Congregational Church in September, with a view to the vacant pastorate.

IN Earl D. Haig's names deserving special mention for gallant services in France appears that of Miss Greta Graham, of this town.

PRIVATE JOHN B. KIPLING, Barnard Castle, joined the army in September, 1915, when only 17 years old. He was trained at Oxford till he was 19, in December, 1916, when he was sent to France with the 9th Royal Sussex. In 1917 he was wounded in the head and leg with a shell, and brought to a London hospital. In June the same year he was sent back to France, and in March, 1918, in the big retreat, he was reported missing, and is now officially presumed to be killed. Previous to joining the army he was a clerk in the service of the North-Eastern Railway Company. He commenced at Evenwood, and, after being there six months, was sent as relief booking-clerk, Newcastle and Tynemouth branches.

F. W. COULTON, of this town, is on board the Renown, cruising in western seas in connection with the visit of the Prince of Wales. The Renown is expected in England December 1.

THE Stang again! On Saturday evening three gentlemen were cycling over the Stang in Indian file. The second rider's machine went wrong. The front mud guard became detached and wedged between the front fork, and the machine was hopelessly jammed. The rider come over the handle bars with great force, on to his head, and was rendered unconscious. His companions carried him to the Stang Foot inn, where he regained consciousness. He was then brought in a conveyance to the surgery of Dr Adams, where his injuries received attention. Later in the evening he was conveyed to Darlington by Mr Louis Smith, in a closed car.

THE revision court for the Teesdale parishes of the Barnard Castle parliamentary division was held in the Council room, Barnard Castle, on Friday last, before Mr J. Ingram Dawson, deputy registration officer for the division. Mr Woodhead attended for the Unionist Association. Four new claims were made, three of which were allowed. It transpired that Winston and Harwood had been made additional polling places, the electors now voting there instead of Gainford and Forest respectively as heretofore. The overseers of 24 parishes were present, and the court sat from 10 in the morning until after 4 in the afternoon. Mr Dawson complimented the overseers on the excellent state of their voters' lists.

ROBERT DONALD, son of Mr and Mrs Donald, of Startforth, after spending ten days' leave of absence at home, left Barnard Castle last week to re-join H.M.S. Malaya at Portsmouth, which is of Jutland fame, May 31st, 1916. Mr Donald has a fine record of service.

UPPER DALE NOTES.

[BY OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT]

Dr. Wardle Stafford, President-elect of the Wesleyan Conference, paid a visit to the Middleton Wesleyan Church last Thursday, preaching in the afternoon, his subject being: "Seek the things that are above, and set your heart upon things that are above." In the evening he delivered his popular lecture, entitled "Fools, ancient and modern." The reverend gentleman dealt with fools in general, referring to the fool at court mentioned in history, after which he alluded to the fool in the home, in society, in business and in religion. Despite the very wet evening a capital company was present, over which the Rev. G. Chun, Primitive minister, presided.

A unique gathering took place at Forest school-room on Friday night, when Private Walter Jackson, Dirt Pitt, was presented with the French Croix de Guerre. Mr R. Allinson, Sevy Hill, Harwood, presided, and the presentation was made by Captain Shearwood, Bishop Auckland, supported by Mr Aubin, of the same town. Songs were contributed by Mrs Gill, Messrs J. J. Stobbart and F. Lowe, and a recitation by Mr Fred Allinson. Mrs Gill was the accompanist. Votes of thanks were accorded to Captain Shearwood, Mr Aubin and also to Mr Geo. N. Wearmouth, Middleton, who had organised the presentation.

Mrs Amos Robinson, Prince Albert, Canada, late of Middleton, has again been very successful with her Rhode Island Red poultry, having gained 1st prize for cockerel at Saskatoon, 1st and 2nd for pullets at Prince Albert, and 1st for pen of cockerel and hen at Milfoot. She also obtained 1st for geese and 2nd for rabbits at Prince Albert show. The heat was so intense at Saskatoon—being 104 degrees in the shade—that scores of exhibits died in the pens.

The quarterly meeting in connection with the Teesdale Primitive Methodist circuit was held at Middleton on Saturday afternoon. There was a good number of officials present, the Rev. G. Chun presiding. The numerical statement was the same as the previous quarter. Mr Joshua Watson was elected secretary, and tea was provided by Mrs Watson, Mickleton.

There is a very large entry for Middleton Agricultural Show on Saturday first. The horse classes are a record. Sheep dog trials, trotting and scampers are also well filled, and other sections are good. Given a fine day a splendid show is expected.

A meeting in connection with the local branch of the British Women's Temperance Association was held in the Primitive school-room on Monday afternoon, Mrs J. Watson presiding. An able address was given by Mr J. C. Sayer (blind evangelist) on "Temperance and child life." Miss Lamb, Egglesburn, rendered a solo. Refreshments were afterwards handed round, and new members enrolled.

The Scots Guards' Band in Witham Hall.

The Band of His Majesty's Scots Guards by kind permission of Lord E. C. Gordon-Lennox, C.M.G., D.S.O., M.V.O., visited Barnard Castle on Thursday last. Unfortunately rain fell heavily the whole day, and in the afternoon an attractive programme had to be rendered in a picture gallery at the Bowes Museum. The overture, "Le Carnival de Venise" (Thomas) as arranged by Lieut. Wood, director of music and the piccolo solo, "Picaroon" (Green), by Sergt. A. E. Lumley-Holmes, were leading items in the first part; and the suite de ballet, "Les deux pigeons" (Messager), and the Hungarian dances were well received in the latter half of the scheduled items. At night there was a large attendance in the Witham Hall, when "Petite Suite de Concert" (Coleridge Taylor), was well received. "For you a rose, for me a memory" (Nicholls) embraced a fine cornet solo by Sergt. W. Hamilton; and Charles Godfrey's selection, "Reminiscences of Greig," and homely "Tangled Tunes"—magnificently arranged by the conductor—were vociferously applauded.

ALLOTMENT HOLDERS' SHOW.

Successful Exhibition in the Music Hall.

Mr F. Guyll Wins Bronze Medal.

The third annual show of the Barnard Castle and District Allotment Holders' Association took place in the Music Hall, on Saturday afternoon. Some very excellent garden produce was staged, which, considering the phenomenally droughty season, must have necessitated much care and attention. The flower classes were, perhaps, somewhat disappointing, though the weather conditions have been anything but favourable. The display of vases and herbaceous plants from the Bowes Museum was much admired, and the ornamental palms, also kindly lent by the Trustees, had a very pleasing effect. During the afternoon a string band rendered choice selections of music. The committee have every reason to be satisfied with the result, and are convinced that a good foundation has been laid from which to develop. The task of awarding the prizes was entrusted to Messrs John Short, Hummersknott, Darlington, and G. W. Thornton, Ingleton, who discharged their duties in a very satisfactory manner, and the secretarial arrangements were carried out by Mr J. Andas. At the close of the show some of the produce was sold, the proceeds of which will be forwarded to the treasurer of the Royal Horticultural Society War Relief Fund.

THE OPENING.

The opening ceremony was performed by Dr. Leishman, the Rev. H. Bircham (Vicar) presiding. On the platform also were the judges and the officials of the association. The Chairman said he was only too glad to do what he could to assist allotment holders, whose efforts had done much to avert a great national food shortage. He commended gardening as a health-giving occupation, and from an economical standpoint was to be encouraged. He said the Government were bringing in a bill to give local councils more power to acquire land for allotment purposes, and he assured them that the Urban Council would take full advantage of that measure. (Applause).—Dr. Leishman, who was cordially received, in declaring the show open, spoke of the excellent quality of the exhibits, which reflected great credit upon the cultivators, especially considering the very droughty season. In his opinion the speaker averred that throughout the war the allotment holder had, indeed, been a patriot in every sense of the word. He wished the show every success, and trusted that the present effort would lead even to greater things.—The Secretary proposed a cordial vote of thanks to Dr. Leishman, the Vicar and the judges, and also referred to the kindness of the trustees of the Bowes Museum in granting the loan of the palms and for the fine display of roses.—Mr Dalgarno seconded, remarking that they hoped to bring the exhibition up to the standard of the old Barnard Castle Flower Show.

LOCAL INNKEEPERS AND MARKET DAYS.

Mr J. W. B. Heslop applied on behalf of sixteen members of the District Licensed Victuallers' Association for the Bench to exercise their discretion under a recent order of the Liquor Control Board, bearing date the 22nd of July last, authorising them to extend the licensing hours on special occasions. He thought this was immediately applicable to Barnard Castle, and asked that the licensed victuallers might be permitted to sell liquors between the hours of 10 in the morning and 4 in the afternoon, instead of only between 12 and 2.30 as at present. Farmers came from the top of Baldersdale and other distant places, and needed shelter on reaching the town, and he suggested that the presence of these people on licensed premises during prohibited hours placed the innkeepers under very grave suspicion, and that would be removed, he submitted, by the extension of the hours of drinking. He added that no more intoxicants would be consumed, because the supply was limited, and was quickly exhausted.—The Chairman: There would be 3½ hours extra for drinking.—Mr Bircham: It appears that we have power according to this order to give you permission for a special occasion, but are you clear that the law would allow us to give that permission on every Wednesday's market day? It appears as though you had to apply specially for every occasion.—Mr Heslop: Every Wednesday is a special occasion. The law says "any public ceremony or gathering."—The Chairman: On behalf of the police do you object?—Supt. Riddell: I do. The Chief Constable is very firm on these matters. He does not think that drinking ought to be further encouraged. If the houses are open nearly four hours longer there is bound to be more drink consumed.—Mr Heslop: There cannot be more because they cannot supply the demand at present. The reason of the application is to avoid suspicion.—Mr Hartley: That is the excuse.—Supt. Riddell: I think from 12 to 2.30 every day is a reasonable time, and the market is over before 2.30.—The Chairman: The Bench feel that some doubt exists as to the correct interpretation of this order, and they have, therefore, decided to adjourn their decision until their Clerk has had an opportunity of taking advice on the correct reading. You will raise the question again, Mr Heslop, at the next court.

LICENSES VARIOUS.

The license held during the war by Mr Robert Boardman was transferred to Mr Thomas Boardman, his son, who was the original licensee on the acquisition of the business.—The license of the Queen's Head inn, Cockfield, was transferred from Mr John Thomas Hall to Mr William Clennel.—The Bench declined to grant a Sunday license to the Temperance Hall, Cockfield, used as a picture gallery. This is the rule of the court throughout the division. The usual six days' license was renewed.

GAME CASK DISMISSED.

Frederick Hunter, groundsman at the golf course, was charged with trespassing in search of game on land belonging to Lord Barnard, in Marwood.—A watcher, named George Macdonald, said he detected snares set, and ensconced. The defendant, said witness, came to the spot at eight o'clock on Tuesday morning, August 19th, and took up two snares and was then intercepted. Witness charged the defendant with being there in pursuit of game. He replied the snares were not his, and did not belong to him. There was no disturbance. Some of the snares were set between the growing corn and the fence, and one was actually in the corn.—Mr Gilbert Hicks, who defended, asked witness if he saw the man set the snares, and he replied in the negative; and the advocate then said there was no evidence to connect the man with the offence alleged.—Mr Hartley said it was a weak case, and the charge would be dismissed.—Mr Fife did not adjudicate.

OTHER CASES.

Thomas Walton, Middleside, farmer and cattle dealer, was fined 10s for permitting a horse and vehicle to be on the highway without lights.—Elizabeth Heward, New House, Forest, was fined 20s for keeping a dog without a license or exemption.—John Smith, Slack Farm, Lunedale, was ordered to keep a dog under proper control, and pay 8s costs.

The Late Mrs Calvert, of Gainford.

Antiquary and Artist

We regret to announce the death, which occurred late on Wednesday night, at St. Lawrence, Gainford, of Mrs Mary Anna Calvert, at the advanced age of 95 years. Mrs Calvert was the daughter of the late Mr Robert Botcherby, of Woodlands, Darlington, and his wife, Anna Clark. Her mother married again, Mrs Calvert's stepfather being the Rev. Lewis Paige, M.A., Rector of Whitfield, Northamptonshire. She was the niece of the late Mr Robert Clark, of Barford Hall, Gainford, whose only son was the brilliant scholar and well-known Shakespearian, the Rev. William George Clarke, M.A., Senior Fellow and Vice-Master of Trinity College, Cambridge, and Public Orator of the University. At Barford Hall Mrs Calvert spent much of her early life, where the ruins of St. Lawrence's Chapel and the ancient hall and doorcot provided objects for her archæological study and her skill with the artistic brush. Mrs Calvert was thrice married. She took great interest in the occult, and followed closely in former years the investigations of the Society for Psychical Research. The Rev. Dr Edleston, formerly Vicar of Gainford, always spoke of her as "a great antiquarian."

STARTFORTH RURAL COUNCIL.

700 Fresh Herring on a Turnpike Road.

AMUSING COAL-LEADING EPISODE.

Mr James Peacock presided at the monthly meeting on August 13th, there being also present Messrs Preston, Richmond, Raine, Oliver, Collinson, Hogg, Birkett, Thompson, Errington, Coulthard, Tarn Waller, Metcalfe, Harris, Garth, Longstaff, Raine (Mickleton), Lodge, Bayles, Allison, Scrafton, H. C. Watson (clerk), Plews (surveyor), and Porter (inspector).

THE SURVEYOR'S SALARY: A QUESTION.

Mr Metcalfe: should not Mr Plews have given notice before he made his application for an increase of salary?—The Chairman: It was on the agenda. It was quite sufficient.—Mr Metcalfe: To be strictly legal, ought we not to have had a month's notice?—The Clerk: I don't think it is necessary. It is not a notice by any member.—Mr Metcalfe: It is spending the ratepayers' money, and standing orders have fixed the sum at over £5.—The Chairman: I don't think it is incumbent in a matter of salary.—Mr Dent: It was given in proper order.—Mr Metcalfe: I question it.—Mr Preston: These things just come on in the hay month, and at a time when everybody is busy.—The Clerk: If any member had wanted to propose that the salary be increased he would have had to give a month's notice.—The matter then dropped.

OTHER MATTERS.

The bank balance was reported to be £2,371 11s, and that day's paybill amounted to £435 4s 8d.—The steam-roller started on the day of the meeting in Baldersdale. It had been laid off for hay-making.—The Medical Officer reported the notification of a case of pulmonary tuberculosis, and that eight births and four deaths had been registered.

THE STENCH FROM 700 HERRINGS.

The Inspector said two barrels of fresh herrings, 700 fish in all, had been deposited by the side of Lartington road, and had caused a great nuisance. They had not been able to make out who had done it. The fish were thrown among thorns. He had been told that the horse had started to kick, and had punched the cart bottom out. The police had made inquiries, but without avail.—Mr Tarn moved that it be left in the hands of the surveyor and the police.—Mr Preston: The nuisance is abated, and the herrings are buried. Let it pass.—The Chairman: We will take the next business.

THE HUTTON PROPERTY.

The Yorkshire District Wages Committee called the attention of the Council to the lack of accommodation, a family of seven living in two rooms; and the Clerk had written to the agent pressing for a reply in order that he might place before the Council some definite assurance that the work would be carried out. Mr J. W. Foxton had replied that he was doing his best with the resources at his disposal. He had converted two cottages into one, and was making preparations to enlarge one of the cottages at Lane Head.—Mr Garth: I understand there will be a meeting in the morning, when Mr Foxton will try to make arrangements.

THREATENED COAL FAMINE.

Local authorities are being urged to stock coal to the best of their ability for the coming winter.—Mr Longstaff: I was five times at Midd
