The Teesdale Mercuru BARNARD CASTLE, MARCH 31st, 1926. OCCASIONAL NOTES.

By Marcurius.] Gossip in Barnard Castle market on Wednesday largely concerned an adventure which Mr William Dent, junior, of Rutherford House, had with a bull which he was leading home from his father's farm at Naby to Scargill.

During the journey the bull suddenly turned upon Mr Dent, knocked him down, and kneeling on him began to tease him with his horns. A gust of wind, happily, blew Mr Dent's hat off and sent it along the road. The bull went for the hat and gored it, enabling Mr Dent to climb over a wall and so escape the animal's further unpleasant attentions. Mr Isaac Dent, his brother, eventually captured the animal, which had run away. Mr William Dent, junior, has suffered considerable pain in consequence, but is recovering from the effects.
